GERMANS LOSE IN OPENING ATTACK ON ALLIED INVASION FORCES NEAR ROME

FIFTH ARMY TROOPS TIGHTENED SQUEEZE ON GERMAN FORCES

EVEN GREATER SQUEEZE APPLIED TO NAZIS IN NORTH RUSSIA

By RICHARD McMURRAY
Associated Press War Editor.

Fifth Army troops tightened the squeeze on 100,000 Germans in Central Italy today with local advances around bristling Cassino and limited gains 60 miles north in the Rome bridgehead, which was "improved" and reinforced for the imminent battle for the Eternal City.

An even greater squeeze was applied to a quarter million Germans in northern Russia by Red armies pressing south and west of Leningrad and west of Novgorod after rupturing major enemy communications, killing 55,000 and capturing 6,000 in violent offensive actions along 100 miles of slushy snow. Pravda said the Novgorod army had reached the Luga river at a point about ten miles east of the Leningrad-Vitebsk railroad.

The Russians announced that the siege of Leningrad had been lifted completely in the 13 days' campaign which had driven the Germans 40 to 60 miles from the city and liberated 700 towns and villages.

Argentina, after handing passports to the German and Japanese ambassadors, ordered her merchant ships to remain in port until protective steps could be taken.

The RAF estimated that record 31,000 tons of bombs had been dropped on the Germans in January from allied planes striking from Britain and the Mediterranean. Marshal Tito asserted that his Yugoslav Partisan army had liberated 70 per cent of Central Bosnia and occupied Prnjavor.

Limited Advance.

Headquarters in Algiers announced "a limited advance" inland in the beachhead below Rome where German resistance has been hardening. The steady stream of reinforcements into the new front and the lack of immediate interest in Rome itself made it apparent that Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's prime objective in the bold amphibious operation was to destroy the nine German divisions fighting between the two Fifth Army fronts.

Field dispatches said American troops had advanced within a half mile of Cassino, already abandoned by the Nazis. The Americans had secured a bridgehead over the Rapido river, but their gains were impeded by minefields and heavy fire from cannon, mortars and machine-guns. Ten miles to the north, the French advanced to Mt. Belvedere, cutting the road to Atina.

The Hermann Goering division reached the southern edge of the Rome bridgehead and it was repulsed in an attack on the fringes of the Pontine marshes with 120 killed. Warships again bombarded the Appian war near Formia to tangle German communications. The Eighth Army front near the Adriatic was relatively quiet save for two German attacks which were beaten back near Orsogna.

Bad weather curtailed flying although light bombers struck Cisterna and Itri on the Appian Way and inland Ceccano, 30 miles due west of Cassino. Fighters maintained constant patrols over the battlefields.

The Russian capture of Krasnogvardeisk, 30 miles south of Leningrad, complicated the German defense problem in the north. The big junctions of Tosno, Luban and Chudovo tottered. The Russians closed in on Volosovo, 48 miles from Estonia.

The Russians said 40,000 Ger-

Baruch to Head House Post-War Economic Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Bernard M. Baruch, 73-year-old adviser to two wartime presidents, will be asked to head the staff of the newly-created house economic policy and planning committee, set up yesterday to help get the country back on a peacetime bssis when the time comes.

Chairman Colmer (D-Miss) announced he would invite Baruch to head the committee's staff, "if not actively, then in an advisory capacity."

"I know of no man better fitted for the job," Colmer said.

Baruch was head of the War Industries Board in World War No. 1 advised President Wilson on economic policy, and now is head of President Roosevelt's advisory unit on war and post war policy.

The new house committee will take over many of the activities envisaged for President Roosevelt's national resources and planning board, which was abolished by congress last year.

Colmer told the house that a paramount aim would be to bring about a cessaiton of "wartime regimentation of the people" and to guarantee "the continuation of free enterprise."

Serving with Colmer are nine other Democrats and eight Republicans. Democrats include Rep. Thomason of Texas.

U. S. DOUGHBOYS DRIVE WITHIN HALF MILE OF CASSINO

RECROSSED RAPIDO RIVER IN DEADLY FIRE FROM SMALL ARMS

By HAL BOYLE

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY Before Cassino, Jan. 26.—(Delayed)—(AP)—American doughboys who recrossed the Rapido river in a deadly hail of small arms fire have driven to within half a mile of Cassino in an envelopment movement through the surrounding ridges.

Patrols advanced to the outskirts of the town itself before withdrawing.

The concentrated opposition has been among the heaviest encountered by American troops at any time either in North Africa or Italy.

Standing on a ridge overlooking the ancient white-towered city of 16,000 population — in the home town of Gregory the first and other Popes and surmounted by the famous Benedictine Monastery — Lt. Col. Humbert H. Des Marls, Minneapolis, told how the doughboys forded the Rapido before dawn yesterday.

As he pointed towards the hills north of Cassino where the infantry still is fighting its way through the mist-shrouded crags. German artillery was pounding the valley before us to keep traffic off the Rome highway.

American shells were landing in flower-bed bursts on Nazi-fortified points on Mt Mainlo, one of the foothills of snow-capped Mt. Cairo

Corsicana Officer Receives Promotion

Mrs. Remus L. Jones has received word from her husband, stating that he had been promoted from first lieutenant to captain. Capt. Jones is with the 36th Division in Italy.

Capt. Jones was mobilized with local National Guard units in November, 1940. He recently sent a captured German Nazi flag to his mother, Mrs. P. S. Travis, of Corsicana. A brother, Staff Sergeant J. C. Jones, Infantry, 36th Division, captured the Nazi flag at Salerno during the first four days after the landing.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN PESSIMISTIC OVER LAGGING BOND SALE

WAVE OF UNEXPLAINED COMPLACENCY HAS ENVELOPED CITIZENSHIP

"On the eve of one of the greatest battles in the world's history a wave of complacency seems to have enveloped Corsicana and Navarro county citizens," Joe E. Butler pessimistically observed as he reported the Fourth War Loan woefully lagging in this community with sales at the lowest ebb in the history of previous campaigns.

"Maybe everyone is not alive to the plain truths about the war situation—victory is not just around the corner—billions of dollars must be thrown into the fight before V-day arrives," he said in pointing out that there seemed to be a large number of people offering every kind of excuse—grasping at anything—in refusing to purchase bonds.

Victory Costly.

"Obviously some do not realize that victory may prove so costly that no one will feel like celebrating when the Nazis and Japanese have at last been beaten into submission," the chairman warned.

Butler stated that if a sufficient number of series "E" bonds were purchased by Corsicana and Navarro county citizens two planes will be named—one for the city and one for the county.

"With the sale of $450,000 worth of "E" bonds we can have a Flying Fortress named the City of Corsicana and with the additional sale of $110,000 an ambulance plane will be named Navarro County," the chairman said in urging a concentrated effort on the part of every one to meet these goals. The county quota on 'E' bonds is $637,000. The total county quota for the Fourth War Loan is $2,819,000.

B. & P. W. Club Active.

Butler took occasion to highly compliment the results being accomplished by the Corsicana Business and Professional Women's Club in the sale of "E" bonds. "This organization has really been devoting much time and effort to the work," he said.

Organization of the students in the Corsicana public schools will be completed next week when classes are resumed. Plans are also in the making for other features to be presented during the campaign.

Thousands Will Die.

Again urging the citizenship to shake off their apparent indifference, Butler said that many persons evidently do not realize that thousands of lives of American boys will be lost before victory comes and that every home in the city and county soon will be anxiously awaiting the news from the bloody fighting.

Butler called attention to casualty lists published each day in the newspapers saying that men continue to die each day on the global battlefields. "These soldiers are not complacent—they know the war is not won—they are offering their lives that we at home may be safe—surely the citizenship will not hesitate to spend their dollars that these men may have the necessary equipment to continue the battle," the chairman asserted.

County Schools To Enter Drive For Bond Sales

Navarro county schools are scheduled to take an active part in the Fourth War Loan Bond Sales campaign within the next few days, J. C. Watson, county superintendent, revealed Thursday morning.

Materials will be sent to each school in Navarro county during the next few days, Watson said, for use of teachers and pupils in the intensified campaign in their respective communities.

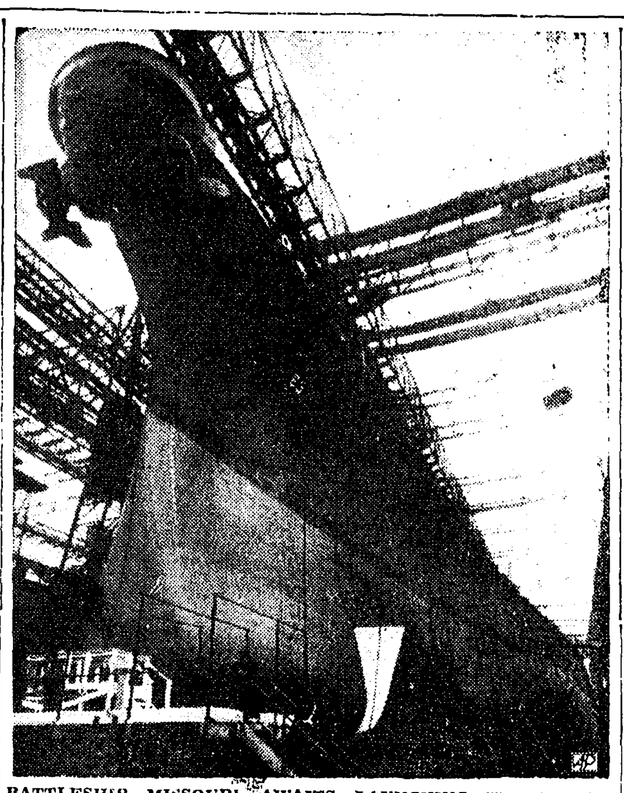

Watson said teachers are requested to contact the chairmen for their community and to work with him.

"It is the purpose of the county chairman (Joe E. Butler) to see that every person has an opportunity to make application for the purchase of the small bonds. We hope that every school child that can do so will purchase at least one $25 bond during the drive," Supt. Watson stated.

Nightwatchman Took Shots at Intruders

William Hollingsworth, nightwatchman at Blooming Grove, reported to Sheriff Cap Curington early Thursday morning that he took three pistol shots at several men surprised away from the H. S. Whorton filling station at 3 a. m.

County officers conducted an investigation at Blooming Grove after the report and said a bar was found near the front door of the filling station but no evidence that any of the men frightened away had been struck by the gunfire.

PRESENT PLANS FOR ARMY WILL PUT MANY MORE MEN OVERSEAS

TWO-THIRDS OF ARMED FORCES TO BE ABROAD BY END OF 1944

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—As present plans shape up, two-thirds of America's steadily growing army will be at overseas stations by the end of this year.

That was the word today from War Secretary Stimson as he announced plans for closing a number of domestic army camps during the next few months and the transfer to combat units of a substantial proportion of the soldiers now assigned to administrative duties.

The overseas expansion program will double our forces abroad. As of the end of 1943, only about a third of the army had been sent outside the country.

In addition, a number of officers over 38, particularly those commissioned directly from civil life or in the National Guard and Reserve Corps, will be placed on the inactive list because "no suitable assignments are available or in prespect either at domestic or overseas installations or establishments."

"The readjustments were dictated generally by the progressive shift of army operations from the defensive to the offensive and by the growth of air power," said Stimson. "As of Dec. 31, 1943, approximately one-third of the army's strength was overseas. By the end of this year it is contemplated that two-thirds of the army will be overseas."

Training Peak Past.

With the peak of the training program past, the army already has placed a number of its facilities on a stand-by basis, or announced that it intends to do so. The air forces have relinquished

TAX SIMPLIFICATION MAY BE EXCUSE FOR NEW RESERVE DEMAND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Tax simplification may be the peg upon which the treasury will hang another whopping demand for added revenues next spring.

Department officials pointed significantly today to President Roosevelt's recent budget message in which the chief executive urged upon congress the "need for additional revenue beyond that provided in the bill now pending."

Although Capitol Hill at first expected any new recommendations to be confined to administrative matters—primarily simplification—in all probability they will embrace a revenue demand only slighty less encompassing than last October's $10,500,000,000 which, under senate and house trimming, now has shrunk to $2,275,600,000. This bill now is in a senate-house conference committee and, according to Chairman George (D-Ga) of the senate finance committee, may reach the White House next Monday or Tuesday.

ARGENTINE POSITION WILL BE CLARIFIED THROUGH LEND-LEASE

REQUEST FOR SUCH AID EXPECTED WHEN FOREIGN POLICY GIVEN

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Argentina's new position in relation to the rest of the Americas probably will be clarified when and if she again applies for lend-lease arms and supplies.

A request for such aid is expected as soon as Buenos Aires has completed re-orientation of her foreign policy begun yesterday when she severed diplomatic relations with Germany and Japan.

The issue is considered by the Argentinians to be of immense importance because they see themselves suffering as a South American power in relation particularly to Brazil, which as a full-fledged fighting ally of the United States has been receiving arms and equipment since 1941.

What Washington's reaction will be, however, probably will depend on the extent to which the Buenos Aires government has done by then in cleaning up axis spy nests, propaganda and revolutionary intrigue within her borders. It probably will depend also on the need Argentina can show for lend-lease in the interests of hemispheric defense and the allied war effort.

GERMAN FOREIGN MINISTER BITTER OVER ARGENTINA

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop decried today what he termed Argentina's surrender to United States "belevolence" and declared that in the end England, not Germany, was the loser by the Argentine severance of diplomatic relations with the axis.

"The United States tried for years to bring about a rupture of diplomatic relations between the Argentine government and the axis," Von Ribbentrop was quoted in a dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio.

"She did not shrink from any means, any blackman to achieve her purpose. The Ramirez government has now yielded to pressure and surrendered the sovereignty of the country to United States 'benevolence.'

"The motivation given in Buenos Aires for the break—the alleged participation of members of the German embassy in an espionage affair—is completely untrue. It is merely further proof that the Argentine government is not master of her own decisions any longer.

"Germany practically loses nothing x x x neither in regard to prosecution of the war nor in post-war interests. The real loser in this dinplomatic act is England. England, in the course of the war has been compelled to sacrifice the major part of her Central and South American interests to the United States ally. She finally is going to lose her position in Argentina."

LENINGRAD HAS BEEN FULLY LIBERATED BY NEWEST OFFENSIVE

OTHER RUSSIAN ARMIES CONTINUE TO ADVANCE IN VARIUS SECTORS

By JAMES M. LONG

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Russian General Leonid A. Govorov announced today that Leningrad had been completely liberated by the two-week Red offensive, with the Nazis driven 40 to 60 miles from the city and more than 700 nearby towns and villages freed.

The exceptional honor of 24 salvoes from 324 guns reserved for the greatest victories was ordered fired by the guns of Leningrad for the armies, the people of Leningrad and the Red fleet.

"As the result of the fighting a task of historic importance has been solved—the city of Leningrad has been completely liberated from the enemy blockade and from barbaric enemy shelling," said a special bulletin recorded from a Moscow broadcast by the Soviet monitor.

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The Russians have reached the bank of the Luga river west of Novgorod, a Pravda dispitch reported today as the Leningrad army of Gen. Leonid A. Govorod and the Volkhov army of Gen. K. A. Meretskov continued to smash from opposite directions into the Germans' Baltic salient.

The Luga is only about 10 miles east of the Leningrad - Vibehsk railway, one of the two remaining railways radiating southward from Leningrad that remain available for German use.

The Pravda ditspatch said three German regiments were defeated in a clash on the Luga.

A sudden, freakish, warm thaw has turned the Russian-German front below Leningrad into quadmires, muddy roads, unlocked swamps and flooded rivers, front dispatches reported today, but the Red armies under Gens. Leonid A. Govorov and K. A. Meretskov

ARGENTINE FREEZES SHIPS MOVEMENTS IN FIRST BREAK ACTION

MILITARY GOVERNMENT BIG LATIN NATION CLEARING MATTERS UP

By STANLEY ROSS

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The Argentine military government froze movements of the state merchant fleet today as one of the first follow-up actions to its diplomatic break with the axis, all vessels being directed to remain in port "until new orders."

It was expected here, however, that the tieup would not last long, since Argentine economy largely depends on the movement of the merchant fleet

(Although no reason was given for the freezing order, it seemed apparent that the Ramirez government deemed it unwise to expose the vessels to the menace of any lurking enemy submarine in the South Atlantic until some provision could be made for their protection, possibly in convoys.

(Nazi submerines sank three Argentine ships in 1942 but no mention was made of these torpedoings in yesterday's official announcements concerning the diplomatic break.)

As congratulations poured in from all over the continent, the Argentine government turned to another problem attending its diplomatic break—the question of communications with Germany.

Suspension of these facilities loomed as great importance in view of the revelations that Buenos Aires was headquarters for a giant espionage ring. It is believed that telephone communications with Germany already have been cut.

Inefficiency Has Doubled Costs of War Says Byrd

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Senator Harry F. Byrd (D-Va), says that "inefficiency and the lack of organization among the very numerous departments of the government have made the war cost at least twice as much as it should."

Byrd, chairman of the joint congressional economy committee, told the New Jersey Taxpayers Association last night that if President Roosevelt's most recent budget was approved by congress the total appropriated for war purposes would be 428 billion.

This, he said, would compare

Jimmy Stewart Has Turned Down Offer of Major

A U. S. LIBERATOR BOMBER BASE, England, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Capt. Jimmy Stewart, formerly of Hollywood and now leader of a Liberator bomber squadron, is the talk of his airmates at this base because he startled a superior officer by turning down a promotion to major.

Friends of the actor, who won his wings the hard way, quoted him as explaining hos refusal by saying that he didn't want to be raised to a higher rank "until my junior officers get promoted from lieutenants."

Stewart has piloted his bomber on three raids as a squadron commander he flies only occasionally—and fellow fliers say he did a "swell job."

AMERICAN BOMBERS SINK OR DAMAGE 14 MORE ENEMY SHIPS

JAPANESE ALSO LOST MANY PLANES IN DEFENSE OF RABAUL PORT

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
Associated Press War Editor.

American bombers have sunk or damaged 14 Japanese ships, ranging from a minesweeper to a big freighter, in new assaults on the enemy's long supply line to its war bases in the Pacific, allied reports said today.

Ten Vessels were hit by navy and marine fliers in the third and heaviest blow this month at shipping in the Port of Rabaul, pivotal base for the shrinking Nipponese territory in the Southwest Pacific. The Japanese lost 24 to 28 planes in an unsuccessful defense of their vulnerable New Britain harbor.

A small freighter was destroyed in another allied air raid on the Admiralty Islands, northwest of Rabaul. In the far east, 14th U. S. airforce Mitchell bombers sank two 1200-ton freighters and a minesweeper off the East China coast.

The latest strike at Rabaul brought the enemy's cost of maintaining that base to at last 26 ships sunk or damaged and more than 350 planes destroyed during January.

First reports from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters on the raid last Monday assessed the shipping loses a five cargo vessels and a

HERMANN GOERING ARMORED DIVISION WAS THROWN BACK

FIRST NAZI COUNTERATTACK BELOW ROME HAS BEEN DEFEATED

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The first German counterattack against the Americans and British just south of Rome, the first of the many that probably will be launched in a furious effort to wipe out the allied beachhead, has been thrown back with the crushing of German armor, allied headquarters announced today.

Men and supplies continued to pile into the strategic wedge threatening the Italian capital.

Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's Central Mediterranean headquarters announced that elements of the Herman Goering armored division had been met southeast of Littoria the chief town of Mussolini's famous Pontine Marsh agricultural development, in a "fierce local engagement."

The Germans left 120 dead on the field as they were tossed back. The Hermann Goering division, formerly an armored grenadier outfit, has been strengthened by new equipment to a fully armored unit. It was last encountered on the main Fifth army front. Its appearance on the beachhead front indicated it had been shifted to counter the threat to the German rear.

Advance on Cassion.

Meanwhile, other Americans of the Fifth army, 48 miles east of Littoria, continuing to uproot Germans, mines and meshed defenses, struggled slowly forward across flooded streams and over steep crags just north of Cassino where field dispatches said they were within half a mile of the Liri Valley gateway and were overlooking the bomb-jumbled ruins of the ancient monastery town. Patrols had penetrated the outskirts of the stronghold.

Some four miles farther north the French rushed downm from their mountain positions on Mt. Il Lago in the Sant' Elia area, across the Secco river and the Cassino-Atina road and attacked the Germans on the slopes of Mt. Belvedere.

Cassino itself appeared to have been largely abandoned by the Germans, but their positions on the rugged mass of Mt. Cairo and other hills nearby enabled them to rake the streets and ruined houses with their artillery.

Naval Units Active.

Allied naval units continued to exert a powerful control over the coastal roads by which Germans could shift their fighting front from the Cassino area to the northern beachhead and again ploughed up sections near Formia Tuesday night with their plunging shells. This sea attack on enemy road traffic is continuing by day and night.

Allied air forces, despite deteriorating weather, put new rents in other sections of the German communication network in the angle between the two allied fronts, ham-

463 Jap Planes Are Bagged By Allied Fliers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Allied fliers in the South and Southwest Pacific have bagged 463 Japanese planes and probably destroyed 109 others since the first of this year, Secretary of War Stimson reported today.

In one two-day period this week, Stimson said, Allied fliers got 118 enemy planes in operations against Japanese bases at Rabaul, Wewak and elsewhere.

Allied airmen have "wrought havoc" among Japanese installations and shipping, he added.

NATIVE OF HUNGARY, PROUD OF AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP, BUYS 4TH WAR LOAN BONDS

Dan Budai, farmer of Richland, Route 1, asserted Wednesday afternoon that the Fourth War Loan campaign should have been subscribed in twenty minutes. A native of Hungary, as is his wife, but a proud American citizen Budai backed up his declaration by exhibiting $1,500 in Fourth War Loan bonds purchased this month.

"I don't care about making money. I want to get the war over so the boys can come home and everyone can be happy," he declared after stating that one son-in-law was in Italy and another will be leaving for foreign service soon.

Budai was 13 years of age when he was brought to America in 1901 by his parents. His wif is also a native Hungarian, and after referring to his seven daughters and two sons, born here, and his and his wife's naturalization as American citizens, dieclared that he was more than 156 per cent American. He was educated in Hungary.

"The people are not doing what they should," Budai pointed out, "but should buy all they can. It hurts me to see many people interested in making money at this time, instead of buying bonds," he added, and then said that he and his wife had made their way and reared their family of nine children without any relief, Red Cross or other aid.

The $1,500 bonds exhibited Wednesday by the Richland farmer are not all he has purchased. He had subscribed to previous war bonds campaigns, he stated.

"This is my country. I'm proud to be an American. I want everyone to do their duty, buy bonds and help bring victory and our boys home," h emphasized as he discussed the necessity of backing the attack with war bonds.

MUCH INTEREST ATTACHES TO STATEMENT OF ANTHONY EDEN'S STATEMENT ON BORDER CHANGES

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst.

Peculiar interest attaches to Foreign Secretary Eden's reaffirmation of the British policy of not recognizing wartime changes in the map of Europe—"unless they take place with the free consent and goodwill of the parties concerned."

The main point of this statement, is the Russo-Polish dispute over the territory occupied by the Soviet in 1939 at the time of the German invasion. Mr. Eden was replying in the House of Commons to a question by a member.

Questions in the House sometimes are spontaneous and sometimes are inspired by the government in order to give it a chance to use Commons as a sounding board to reach a wide audience.

The Foreign secretary may have seized this opportunity to emphasize something even bigger than the Polish imbroglio.

He may have made his main point when he said:

"His Majesty's government of course stands on the principles enunciated in the Atlantic charter."

He might have been concerned not only with the Polish trouble but with reaffirmation of the Atlantic charter. And why should it seem expedient to reaffirm the charter?

Many countries—especially in the Orient—have been suffering doubts and are anxious for assurances that this document, which was drawn up by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill and has become the credo of the United Nations, means what is says.

One of the eight points laid down in the Atlantic Charter declares that "they (Messrs. Roosevelt and

THE POWER THAT CAN RULE WORLD-TEMPEST A REALITY*

What Jesus Did in Storm on Lake of Galilee He Is Still Able to Do for Our Endangered World—Three Miracles of Power—A Traveler's Tale

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Every Chrstian traveler in Palestine wants to share, in some degree, the experiences of Jesus. I have walked the ground that He walked, and meditated oft at the scenes of His great experiences. Outstanding is the evening I was caught in a storm on the Lake of Galilee.

Late one afternoon I set out from Tiberias for the ruins of Tell Hum, at the northern end of the lake. The boat, heavy and cumbersome and propelled by great sweeps, manned by three Galileans, was the type that has persisted on the lake for ages. My son and I sat on the cushioned seat at the stern. In bright, fair weather, we left the dock, the boatman singing in great content.

Ere we had reached the middle of the lake, the sky had clouded over, and strong winds began to blow, and the water to shape up into high waves. In a trice we were battling with one of Galilee's sudden storms. The boatmen struggled tensely with the great sweeps, and their faces wore exaggerated fear. They repeatedly requested me to order the boat to return; they could not understand the thrill I was having in this adventure. So the boat labored on, the men pulling with straining muscles, until the storm died as quickly as it had arisen. But it was dark ere we reached Tell Hum, and we saw the ruins by the light of a lantern carried by a hospitable monk. We returned to Tiberias about midnight, over a smooth sea beneath brilliant stars, and I slept part of the way.

The Weary Worker

That little experience drew me into singular fellowship with the weary Worker who, after a crowded session of ministry that sapped His vital forces, took refuge in a little fishing boat for a trip to the eastern shore of the lake. It is a moving picture of the exhausted Jesus, who poured out His powers so lavishly. There is comfort for all the tired and overstrained workers as they remembered how often physically worn out was the Master.

Heedless of the discomfort of the cramped position in the boat, Jesus fell at once into a deep sleep. He knew naught of the storm that arose, and was heedless of the spray that fell upon Him from the waves that were breaking over the boat.

Veteran fisherman, and used to all the moods of the temperamental lake, the disciples were really scared this time. They resented the apparent indifference of their Leader. As a last resort, they awakened Him with the rebuke, "Master, carest Thou not that we perish"

Whereupon Jesus awakened and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, "Peace, be still. And the wind ceased and there was a great calm."

Does God Really Care

Deep in the heart of millions, helpless amidst the terror of these times, there lurks the question of the storm-tossed, imperilled fishermen, "Cares Thou not that we perish?" Does God really care for man's fate? Has the world's sinning caused the Holy One to withdraw His protection? We read daily instances of God's intervention in behalf of indivduals; but at the same time we behold irreparable horrors befalling mankind.

Nevertheless, we are called upon to have faith that God is working out His beneficent purposes. He may chasten us sorely—and truly we deserve chastening—but He will not forsake us. His nature, His word, and His past dealings with us all testify to His loving care. The very desperation of our situation is a summons to faith, even as Jesus reminded His disciples in the boat. "Have ye not yet faith?" They had seen His wonders, yet were not sustained. The past of God's dealings is proof that He will not fail us in the present ordeal.

The Larger Vision

Even His closest friends have increasing occasion to wonder at the greatness of Christ, just as the disciples, who had witnessed miracle piled upon miracle, exclaimed in uncomprehending awe, "Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey Him?" There is more to Jesus than even the devoutest saint has discovered. His power is matched only by His love. And it is to Him, rather than to our armed forces and peace plans, that we must learn in reverent expectation of the great peace.

Just as the electric power generated at Niagara is adequate equally for the illumination of a great city or the lighting of a tiny hovel, so the power of Christ, which could still a storm at sea, could also meet the needs of an individual. It cured the Gadarene demoniac—what a vivid story our news-conscious Mark makes of this dramatic incident!—and it could bring to life agan the little daughter of Jarius; another tale of exceeding human interest. Read Mark: and in reading Him, learn the lesson, "Have faith in God."

JUDGE CAMILLE KELLEY, FAMOUS WOMAN JURIST, DISCUSSES YOUTH UNDER IMPACT OF TOTAL WAR

By MRS. LYNNE WORTHAM
Sun Society Editor

The atmosphere in Corsic ana still reverberates with the ringing, challenging words of Judge Camille Kelley, foremost woman jurist of the United States, who was presented at Junior High School on Tuesday evening in a series of brilliant, eyewitness stories of youth under the impact of total war. "Juvenile Behavior at the Crossroads" was the dramatic title of Judge Kelley's discussion, which was no doubt one of the most rewarding, and at the same time, one of the most entertaining presentations ever recorded in the annals of this community.

Thrilling in its timeliness, and vivid in its exposition, Judge Kelley's graphic picture of youth at the crossroads left much food for thought with her Corsicana audience, which was assembled under the direction of the Corsicana Council for Child Care, with the co-operation of fifteen local organizations.

Judge Kelley revealed to her listeners that her life has been dedicated to the reclamation of thousands of children who might otherwise have grown up to be Dillingers and Al Capones. In the twenty or more years that she has been on the bench of the Juvenile Court in Memphis, Tenn., she has tried—officially—36,000 dependent and delinquent children 90 per cent of whom have made upright citizens.

Home, School and Church

The home, the school and the church were recommended as the most vital factors in the training of youth, but she also called attention to the importance and necessity of either a probation officer or a truancy officer in controlling the juvenile behavior of a community. Juvenile delinquency, she stated, is an epidemic now sweeping the country and enveloping the young people in its path. She characterized it as wrong behavior, aided by the present world conflict.

The use of liquor and the lack of parental supervision were listed among the contributing factors to the present situation, which is now alarming the thinking people of the world. Youth has been given too many advantages, and obedience has been left out of the picture entirely, the speaker declared.

As a practical approach to mastering the epidemic of juvenile mis-behavior, Judge Kelley recommended the absolute necessity of honest parents, pleasant homes, adequate schools, supervised recreation and above all spiritual underpinnings.

Held Listeners Spellbound

Judge Kelley's vibrant discussion held her listeners spellbound for two hours, and climaxed years of effort among youth-conscious citizenship to present the dynamic personality to Corsicana and the surrounding communities.

In a round-table discussion at the close of Judge Kelley's lecture, fifty or more interested citizens, including city and county officials, and members of local welfare agencies, heard her suggest practical, concrete and immediate methods for controlling juvenile behavior in Corsicana and Navarro county. Committees will be appointed at once, the proper authorities will be contacted and according to the consensus of those present, a program of protection for youth of this community will be inaugurated at the earliest possible moment.

Judge Kelley was introduced to her Corsicana audience by Judge A. P. Mays, who characterized her as an outstanding authority on juvenile problems.

Sponsoring Organizations

Sponsoring organizations of Judge Kelley's presentation here included the Corsicana Council for Child Care, with Rev. Erwin F. Bohmfalk as president, the City Council of Parent-Teachers Associations, the Corsicana Teachers Association, the Alpha Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, the Civitan Club, the Lions Club, United Charities, Salvation Army, American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts, Dads' Club, Business and Profesional Women, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Kinsloe House.

PROPER VENTILATION STRESSED DUE MANY ASPHYXIATIONS

AUSTIN, Jan. 17.—(Spl.)—Several recent deaths in the State, resulting from asphyxiation by gas fumes, has brought a warning from Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health officer, upon the importance of proper ventilation.

It is never safe, the doctor stated, to sleep in a tightly closed room with a gas fire burning. Even if there are no gas leaks, the air soon becomes vitiated, and harmful fumes will be inhaled into the lungs.

"When occupying a room in which gas is burning, be sure always to have at least one window or door open, to admit fresh air," Dr. Cox said. "If the weather is too cold to permit leaving an open window in the room occupied, then play safe by opening a door into an adjoining room which is properly ventilated."

Dr. Cox said that he was prompted to issue this warning by the fact that thousands of new residents in the state have formerly lived where wood and coal are burned, and they do not know the actual danger of burning gas, and failing to provide good ventilation.

"Occupying a room heated by an open gas flame, and keeping the room tightly closed may prove disastrous the first time tried," Dr. Cox said. "It's better to take no chances. Always be sure your room has plenty of fresh air."

Anthracite coal was first put to practical use in 1768. Blacksmiths found it would burn.

Churchill) desire to see no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned." What is more natural than that the world should wonder whether this applies to the Polish affair and, if it does, just how it will be implemented.

Supposing there is no agreement between the Russians and the Poles, and the Muscovites just go ahead and reoccupy the territory in dispute? Who does what to make Russia give up this land?

The chief allies already have agreed that successful prosecution of the war, and the maintenance of peace, depend on continued amicable cooperation among the big three—Russia, America and Britain. It's generally conceded among statesmen and other observers that a rupture of relations among the trio would mean another world war.

This being so it would seem absurd to think that either the United States or Britain would go to the extreme of causing a break with Russia over a territorial change which already was a fiat accompli before America came into the war. This doesn't mean, however, that the Atlantic charter declaration regarding annexations has been eased out. Mr. Eden has reaffirmed it, and it must remain one of the cardinal tenets of the United Nations.

CORSICANA, TEX., JAN. 28, 1944

MISQUOTING THE FOUNDERS

Like other presidential election years, 1944 will hear a lot of references to the makers of the Constitution. What they would think or do today is, with widely different interpretations, discussed by speakers of both parties. The discussion is not often disinterested, and not always intelligent. The reason has just been given by a writer on the problems of the day, Irving Brant. He says:

"Too often we give the words of the Founders, rather than their real convictions. Their beliefs led them to start a revolution and create new political reforms, whereas we mouth their words to justify old ways of living. Today we might better take heed of their manner of acting than of the reasonings whereby they justified what they were doing, which were those of a particular epoch. And we need to look beyond these reasonings to the core of conviction within—a core which was not so much faith in reason, or in private enterprise, or in individualism, as faith in man himself."

Jefferson, perhaps more than most of our other early statesmen, has suffered from his would-be friends. His views have been borrowed to support men and causes that he would not have touched with a ten-foot pole. This year's orators should be more sensible.

WAR-TIME FRANKNESS

There seems to be more sentiment and romance connected with this war than with any other in American history. Or is it only expressed more openly, by young people whose ancestors were less frank in displaying their affections? Anyway, some of the grandmas and grandpas of this generation seem to be rather shocked by the current frankness.

But it doesn't do the old people any good to frown and it probably doesn't do the young people any particular harm if they seem to wear their hearts on their sleeves instead of "letting concealment, like a worm in the bud, feed on their damask cheeks." Sigmund Freud and many a lesser psychologist, and even many a remodeled grandma, would probably agree with that.

BOUNDARIES

There is an old story of a man who was told that any wish he might make would be granted. If the Poles had this chance, they would, if they were wise, ask for mountains round their borders to mark their county off from Russia and Gemany.

The lack of such natural boundaries is at the root of the present disagreement with Russia. There is no line to indicate to the traveller where one begins and the other ends. That is why the Russians venture to claim lands that the Poles say are their own, and why the Poles have in the past spread out far in the east. A high mountain range would make it much easier for both Poles and Russians to keep their own. If Switzerland were as flat as Poland, Hitler would have taken it over long ago.

Americans can understand this, for not the least of our blessings are the two broad oceans that mark off American territory beyond dispute.

The Poet of the People

SENSITIVE MAN

I fancy man believes his whim
Is something sacred unto him.
And when another blocks his path.
Full justified becames his wrath.
Or not so quickly would he show
The will to change a friend to foe.

So sensitive seems man to slights;
So ready to defend his rights;
So quick to hide his own mistakes
And note the ones another makes
'Twould seem he thinks himself to be
From all the common failings free.

Man asks forgiveness while he lives,
But seldom trespasses forgives.
Quick in resentment, he'll declare
Each small offense to be unfair,
As if, himself, he'd never erred
By thoughtless deed or careless word.

A little more of faith and trust,
Of gentler thought and judgment just;
Not quite so swift offense to take
Quicker allowances to make
For all who err, and man would find
A surer way to peace of mind.

ARCTIC OIL

Petroleum has always been greasy stuff, and it seems as if there always has to be some kind of scandal connected with new oil fields. But it would be unfortunate if possible scandal about one Canadian oil project should prejudice the American public against northern oil ventures in general. For sober and honorable experts say there really are extensive petroleum fields in northern Canada, which are distined to become important as the Arctic regions develop. Wallace A. Pratt has an interesting article about it in the January Harper's Magazine, which will hardly be suspected of any improper hook-up with oil exploitation.

There must have been a time when the climate was pleasant up around the Arctic Ocean. For there are plentiful "oil seepages" and other evidences of a tropical climate millions of years ago. The region around Pt. Barrow and Mackenzie Bay would hardly have been reserved by the United States Navy to the extent of 30,000 square miles if there were not pretty good prospects there. The Russians and Canadians are interested, too, in the oil seepages on their frontages along the Arctic Ocean. Mr. Pratt says Alaska is a very promising region for oil, and Soviet geologists have outlined an area of 300,000 square miles along their Arctic frontage, regarded as promising for petroleum.

SOCIAL CHANGES

There seem to be changes coming in the medical profession as much as anywhere. Dr. Arthur F. Chase, president of the New York Academy of Medicine, says that important group is earnestly trying to see ahead and anticipate the future form of society and what its needs will be. His profession, as he puts it, is "in the process of adjusting medicine, in its broadest sense, to the new social order."

Various other professions, not to mention the unprofessional public itself, are engaged in a similar task of adapting themselves to new social conditions. Present-day life seems to be in a state of flux where nearly everything is changing. The war, no doubt, increases this tendency to change. It is hard to guess what life will be like in another half-century, but from present indications it may be much more "socialized," professionally, and otherwise, than it has yet been.

WHALE AND ELEPHANT

Ninety years ago England was fighting the Crimean War against Russia. The mere idea of such a war puzzled some military strategists, who wondered how a naval power like England could get at a land power such as Russia. The humorists compared it to a duel between a whale and an elephant.

The United States is now fighting both the whale of Japan and the elephant of Germany. Were it not for our allies, and above all Russia, we would find it a difficult task indeed.

PAYMENT OF POLL TAXES FAR BEHIND PREVIOUS YEARS

A total of 5,044 poll tax receipts had been issued Wednesday morning at the office of Halley Blake, assessor and collector of taxes for Navarro county. Miss Blake stated this total was far behind the customary year's poll tax receipts even taking into consideration the hundreds and thousands of Navarro countians in the armed forces and away on defense jobs.

Miss Blake said that it was estimated some 3,000 poll-taxpayers were in the armed forces and away from the county this year, but even counting that figure, there still remains some 2,000 to be issued, based on the 10,000 customary total.

The time-limit for the issuance of poll tax receipts whereby the holder can vote in the 1944 elections expires Monday night at midnight. Unless there is the "customery last minute rush," the voting strength of Navarro county will be considerably less this year than in normal times, even should some provision and manner be provided for the soldiers to vote in the various elections.

Maeowen Williams Asked to Contact Local Red Cross

The local Red Cross wishes to contact a young lady by the name of Maeowen Williams, who formerly lived in Odessa. It is thought that her father's name is James Williams. Mitchell, executive secretary, after office hours at telephone 1275.

Miss Billie Mitchell spent the week end at home in Frost.

Local Negro Escapes Injury.

V. T. Gray, local negro undertaker, escaped injury late Monday afternoon when the car in which he was riding overturned and was burned between Trinidad and Malakoff, according to reports from Athens. Henderson county officers said the accident occurred when a rear wheel come off the car.

Postal Receipts Past Year Show Large Increase

Receipts of the Corsicana post office showed an increase of $17,791.93 during 1943 as compared with 1942, according to figures released Tuesday by G. C. Hudson, acting postmaster, and Miss Sadie Hammett, assistant postmaster.

The 1943 receipts were $109,484.24, while those in 1942 were $91,692.31.

The 1943 receipts are more than twice as large as those of a decade ago. The figure for 1933 was $48,270.17, showing an increase in 1943 over 1933 of $61 214.07.

Receipts of the post office is the stamp sales, and does not take into consideration the large amount of money and work involved in postal savings, war bond sales, etc. Another item that represents a large volume of work but does not figure in the receipts, is the numerous governmental agencies, including Corsicana Field Air Activities of Texas, military personnel that used the postal facilities without the purchase of stamps.

Sgt. Ernest Stokes has returned to Camp Dix, N. J., following a visit with his wife and other relatives.

Plano Girl Weds Barry Man Jan. 1 Church Ceremony

Miss Evelyn Morrow Lynge, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Lynge of Plano, became the bride of Tommie F. Gay, Barry, in a twilight ceremony held New Year's Day at 5 p. m. in the First Christian Church in Plano.

The Rev. D. W. Nicholas performed the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with ferns, ivy and floor baskets of white gladioli. White tapers in floor candlebra were lighted by Richard Miller and Curtis Lane.

Preceding the rites W. O. Haggard sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Because," accompanied by Miss Maude Davis, organist who also furnished the wedding music.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white moire taffeta gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and a full skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with white gardenias.

Bride's Attendant.

Mrs. Richard Miller, who attended her as matron of honor, wore an aqua crepe dress. White rosebuds formed a corsage at her waistline and she also wore rosebuds in her hair. Little Miss Adrian Ann Willer and Genie Lynge carried the rings on white satin pillows. Miss Miller's dress was of yellow taffeta and she wore a halo of yellow taffeta ruffles in her hair.

Eugene Lynge of Dallas brother of the bride was best man. Ushers were Richard Miller and Curtis Lane.

Mrs. Gay was graduated from the Plano High School and received her Bachelor of Science degree from NASTC at Denton where she was a member of the Mary Arden and Home Economics Clubs. Since her graduation she has taught Home economics in schools at Barry, Celina and at the present time at Emhouse.

To Live At Emhouse.

Mr. Gay received his education in the schools at Barry and Corsicana and is now engaged in farming at Barry.

When the couple left for their home in Emhouse, Mrs. Gay was wearing a two-piece, black crepe suit with white chiffon bouse and black accessories, and a corsage of gardenias.

THIS FARM BOY GAVE ALL...

You are only asked to lend your money!

LIEUTENANT (j.g.) PAUL BAKER, Navy pilot, with five Jap aircraft to his credit in the day's fighting, was hovering over the aircraft carrier Lexington at dusk, awaiting the signal to land. His gas tanks were nearly empty. Suddenly, over the horizon Jap planes were spotted. It was feared the Japs might discover the Lexington and try a suicide attempt. Baker's order to land never came. His landing lights might have given the Lexington's position away. Without hesitation, Lieutenant Baker turned his plane away from the big carrier and headed for the open sea, luring the Japs after him. He disappeared into the night, never to be seen again. The Lexington was safe.

You can buy extra Bonds!

Paul Baker had a big decision to make. It took him about two seconds.

We, at home, also have a decision to make. We are asked to buy extra War Bonds at once. Our boys at the front are depending on us in this Fourth War Loan. Our patriotic impulse is to say "yes" first and look around for the money afterwards. Let us obey that impulse! It will do us good in more ways than one!

Paul Baker sized his situation up in two seconds . . . and acted. We, whose duty is so trifling by comparison, need scarcely more time in which to do ours!

Think! We are asked to make an investment, not a sacrifice! We are asked to invest the money we would normally use to replace automobiles or farm machinery or repair buildings and fences. We are asked to establish a depreciation reserve which will be available for replacements after the war; to build up a financial reserve for unfavorable years that may come later, or for the education of the children, unexpected hospital bills, or the payment of taxes and debts.

War Bonds are the best form of financial reserve ever offered you. Your money helps finance the war. By postponing unnecessary spending you speed production of planes and munitions to win the war. The gradual expenditure of your reserve after the war will provide jobs for returning soldiers and help stabilize the nation's finances in the postwar adjustment period.

Ask yourself: Have I a single valid reason why I should not buy extra War Bonds? Then, like Paul Baker, make your decision and act!

Get ready for the day when Johnny comes marching home

If you have a boy in the service, think what it will mean to have him come back and share with you the joy of equipping the farm with the best in tractors and other machinery. Think what it can mean for you to have the cash to put the children through college. Think what it can mean, a few years hence, to have new farm buildings or a new home or complete modern conveniences about the place.

To thousands upon thousands of farm and ranch owners who have bought extra War Bonds, these things are assured. For the first time in their lives they are going to be able to have the things they've wanted. Some of them are your neighbors. How about you?

YOU NEVER GET LESS THAN YOU LEND

And you can get ⅓ more than you invest

When held 10 years, Series E War Bonds yield 2.9% interest, compounded semi-annually. You get back $4 for every $3.

CASH IF YOU NEED IT

Of course, no one should cash a Bond unless he has to; but if an emergency comes along, your War Bonds are like money in the bank. Uncle Sam will redeem them in cash—at full purchase price—any time after you've held them 60 days. Don't hold back a single dollar unnecessarily from the purchase of War Bonds. YOUR HELP IS NEEDED.

The Fourth War Loan is on! Your dollars are needed as much by Uncle Sam today as you will be needing them tomorrow.

What's in a Name? Store and Cross Seeking Air WACs

Bill Shakespeare is credited with making the famous wise-crack—"what's in a name—"

Now comes Lieut. Olga Store, WAC, and Cpl. Kriss K. Cross, U. S. Army Air Forces.

The officer and non-com are seeking Air WACs and will be on recruiting duty in Corsicana for an indefinite period with headquarters in the basement at the postoffice.

But to get back to the "what's in a name" angle—it is taken for granted the recruiting team puts much STORE in their ability to sell the gals on joining up in the Air WACs branch of Uncle Sam's armed forces and assure them they will not be given the double CROSS—as everything is on the up-and-up and they are really needed.

It might have some effect if the R is dropped from KRISS—then what have you—KISS CROSS—and as the corporal stands six feet something and looks like a movie star—the possibilities are unpredictable.

Women between the ages of 20 and 50 are urged to give the above suggestions serious consideration—the Air WACs need you according to Lieut. Store and Cpl Cross.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY FATHER J. E. MELTON

No one can understand but us and God above. His ever thought was for us it seemed.
So strange to us that his life should be claimed but we are thankful to the dear Lord that he was spared so long and that he was ready to do his will,
when a Savior called him home.
For heaven is made a brighter place since he has paved the way, and we'll look forward to meeting
him in that sweet place some day.

For there again we can see him,
And hold his darling hand.
And blend our voice and smiles
With his in that Celestial land.
So we will wait most patiently
As he would have us do
And look forward to that happy day
When our work on earth is through.

A dear one from us has gone
A voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.

Though we know that his home
Is far better than ours,
He's gone to be a flower in that garden so fair,
Where there is no pain or heart-aches, either sorrow to bear.

We miss him and grieve so much,
Tho' we know that his wishes would not be such
If he could but tell us I know he would say,
Don't grieve for me, but live righteously each day.
Then if we be faithful, for God knows best,
He'll take us to meet him, and with him forever we'll rest.

His daughter,
PEARL MOBLEY.

CALLED MEETING OF COUNTY DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE JAN. 29

A meeting of the Navarro County Democratic Executive committee has been called at the court house Saturday at 10 a.m. to accept the resignation of L. B. Ransom as chairman, elect his successor and to attend to other business as may be presented.

Ransom, executive secretary of the Texas Railroad Commission, will tender his resignation at Saturday's meeting.

It has been pointed out that all precinct chairmen of the forty-eight precincts are urged to be present if possible, as a majority (not less than 25) is required before a chairman can be elected.

Several vacancies in the personnel of the committee are also scheduled to be filled, according to P. M. Gladney, Zion's Rest chairman and member of the committee. There have been several deaths during the past year, as well as several chairmen moving from one precinct to another.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY
By VERONICA DENGEL

PRETTY ANKLES.

Pretty ankles are the secret wish of every woman. If she already has them, it is a joy to have someone comment about it; but if she hasn't she is always a bit envious of those who do.

Veronica Dengel

The fact is, you can improve your ankles quite a lot if you will work on them. The exercise I have for you today is sure to reduce fatty accumulation at this point because it brings new circulation which helps to carry off the waste deposit. Another advantage of this exercise—because it does stimulate circulation—is to make the feet warmer. There is nothing much more discomforting than cold feet, unless it might be cold hands—and this is the season of the year when we are troubled most with both—so if you are troubled with this condition, the exercise is beneficial for this alone. And, again, quite a few women are troubled with shortened tendons at the back of the leg due to the fact that they have worn high heels for a long time (and started to wear them at too early an age.) This is very bad from a health standpoint and should be corrected.

Sitting straight back in your chair, extend the right foot far forward, raising the thigh just a little off the chair. Stretch out from the thigh to the heel as hard as possible and turn the toes toward you. You will feel a tensing of the muscles. When these muscles seem to quiver, give the foot—still holding the toes inward—a quick jerk or kick upward. Return to the floor and relax. Now do this with the other foot. Notice how the heel of the feet feels a bit looser in the shoe. Take off your shoes, and repeat several times. Always be sure to push the heel outward and turn the toes inward as you tense the muscles. The stretch is the important thing, of course, and kick as high as you can.

Do plan to incorporate this exercise into your daily routine. Only by steady daily workouts can you expect to improve and retain your beauty, youth and health. Spasmodic, strenuous efforts will only result in sore, strained muscles, and then you have to quit again until the aches are gone. Choose a few stretching, limbering and reducing exercises that particulary fit your requirements—and do them—daily!

Farmers Are Urged To Overseed Oats

The Board of Supervisors of the Navarro-Hill Soil Conservation District urge farmers to overseed oats or make separate planting of Huban clover as soon as weather conditions permit.

This crop is an annual form of biennial white sweet clover. Barry his become the center of Huban seed production for this immediate section of Texas. Seed is more in demand this season than usual and farmer are urged to seccure seed as soon as posible. E. L. Watson is the largest seed producer in the area, but his 1943 production of 5,000 pounds has been sold for some time. Other well-known Huban growers include R. L. Harris, Louis David, W. H. Watson, Glen Bell, J. M. Perry, and L. I. Griffin.

On blackland Huban appears to be the number one soil-improving legume. It fits well into the common rotation of cotton, corn, and small grain. Excellent results are being obtained where oats are overseeded with Huban. After the oats are cut the clover is either allowed to make seed or is plowed under green. Some favor the plant of Huban alone for a seed crop.

J. M. Perry near Barry plants two rows of corn with the third row in Huban. He secured excellent results with this method the past year. He is pleased with the corn yield and increased size of ears. The clover was planted with the corn planter, fitted with an improved plate of tin over the regular corn plate.

towering almost a mile high and dominating the terrain north of Cassino.

"The Jerries have been months building up these fortifications and they know every inch of the land," said Des Marls.

"Before our boys even got to the Rapido river they had to cross two irrigation ditches, a 30-meter mine belt and a 12-foot wall.

River Not So Bad.

"As it turned out the river itself was one of the least of our problems. It is narrow along that strip and boggy rather than deep. So our advanced elements went over without even waiting for a bridge to be thrown up."

Des Maris said the troops ran into more mines as soon as they reached the other side of the Rapido.

"There was also a double apron of barbed wire waiting for us," he said. "The Germans were dug in in bunkers on the terraced hillside so they could protect each of their obstacles with enfiladed machine-gun nests.

"That gives you some idea what kind of a task those boys had getting through."

Tanks pushed their way over the Rapido to help oust the enemy machine-guns and fired until their ammunition was exhausted.

The job of getting food and ammunition over to the forward doughboys was complicated by a recent heavy rain which made the narrow country roads slippery as quicksand and boot deep in mud. Despite the hazardous terrain steady lines of jeeps have been running the gauntlet of German artillery fire to deliver material needed to keep the fighting men pushing ahead.

Profits of railroads in 1942 were even higher than in pre-depression 1929.

mering especially at Cisterna, Cecvano and Itri.

The fact that Cisterna was being attacked by allied bombs was evidence that that pivot point on the Appian way and the main railway, 24 miles southeast of Rome and 12 miles inland from the Nettuno beach, was still in German hands. The presence of German guns there also indicate it was one of the strong points for defense of the Rome area.

Littoria 12 Miles East.

Littoria is 13 miles due east of Netturo and four and a half miles from the coast. It is four miles from the Appian Way.

The clash with German armor southwest of there may have indicated that the British or Americans and pushed forward across the Mussolini canal along which sharp clashes previously occurred with German patrols.

The Americans of the old Fifth army front were making steady if painful progress in an encircling maneuver against Cassino despite a hail of fire from every type of German weapon and impediment that could be devised by the enemy.

The French attack to the north was against the slope of Mt. Belvedere which rises to 2,500 feet. This is of strategic importance because of its approach to Mt. Cairo, a 10-mile long ridge bordering the Via Casilina to Rome.

The Secco, which the French crossed, is a tributary of the Rapido, crossed by the Americans to attack Cassino from the north, and the Atina road which was cut is one of the more important northward communications of Cassino.

British Consolidate Gains.

To the south the British consolidated their recent gains over the Garigliano. To the north Canadian Artillery of the British Eighth army shelled enemy supply columns near the Adriatic coast, and Indian infantry threw back two small scale German attacks near Orcogna.

Heavy traffic was observed in the German-held area between the two allied fronts, and a race clearly was on to build up the Nettuno bridgehead to meet an expected crisis.

Today's communique said American and British forces there had been "further reinforced. The beachhead has been improved by limited advances."

Dispatches from the scene said the waters off the beachhead were still black with allied ships and landing craft, protected by barrage balloons, a thick canopy of anti-aircraft fire from ship and shore, and patrols of allied fighters buzzing in the clouds.

The three enemy planes shot down yesterday were from an enemy formation which attacked British and American warships off Formia under the command of Rear Admiral Frank Lowry.

Congratulated by Admiral.

Admiral Sir John Cunningham, allied naval commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean, sent a message congratulating Lowry and his men, and declaring "Now that the army has been safely estiblished ashore our task is to keep it supplied. This I am sure will be accomplished with the same success as the first stage of the invasion."

Besides hitting communications and gun positions at Cisterna, and bottlenecks at Checcano east of Littoria, and Itri, north of Gaeta, allied light ombers struck at Frosinone and a bridge near Atina. Two planes were lost in the operations.

American A-36 Invaders strafed a column of 50 horsedrawn artillery and vehicles moving west from Pontecorvo, northeast of Cassino.

RAF Spitfires, carrying on their share of the Balkan war, attacked two E-boats near Corfu off the Greek Coast.

American Spitfires shot up a train at Imperia, near the French Italian frontier, and RAF Mosquities on intruder patrol blew up another train between Rome and Flarence. The Popoli road punctionon the Eighth army front was attacked by Australian Kittyhawks.

ARGENTINE

The German news agency Transocean, a powerful Nazi propaganda arm, has been notified to wind up its affairs here by Jan. 31, and it was believed that the pro-axis afternoon newspaper Pampero, served by Transocean and often said to be maintained by the German embassy, might close at the same time.

One question which is expected to be settled quickly is who will handle Argentine interests in Germany and Japan. The newspaper Noticias Graficas said last night it probably would be Sweden, although Switzerland and Spain were other possibilities.

69 or more establishments, and the ground forces have begun to close up some of their training camps and other facilities, including Camp Atterbury, Ind.; Pine Camp, N. Y., and the induction center at Fort Hayes, Ohio.

Stimson did not mention these specific instances, but asserted that "the army will no longer need all its present troop housing facilities and it will be necessary to place a number of camps, posts, stations and other installations on a caretaker basis, and to return many of the civilian installations and facilities which previously had been taken over by the army."

He announced that the war department has ordered physically qualified men in all branches of the army who have a total of more than 12 months service at fixed stations or "overhead activities" in the United States to reassigned to combat units "or mobile activities ultimately destined for overseas service."

Younger Men First.

Enlisted men under 30 will be reassigned first according to their length of service in the United States, and they will be followed by those over 30, in order of age—youngest first. These reassignment orders will not apply to men who have served overseas at some time since Pearl Harbor, or to men with highly specialized skills which cannot be utilized overseas.

"Replacement for reassigned enlisted men," said Stimson, "when necessary, will be made from civilians, next by Women's Army Corps personnel then, in order, by men permanently disqualified for overseas service, men who have served overseas, recently inducted men with physical handicaps, enlisted men with less than 12 months service in fixed installations in the United States."

As to the officers over 38, Stimson said "there are many" for whom suitable assignments cannot be found, and that "army commanders have been notified that the retention of such officers on active duty is no longer necessary or desirable in the public interest. Therefore, if they cannot be reassigned they must be recommended for relief from active duty. Final decision in each case will be made by the war department."

The department has not made public the list of camps which it proposes to close' with 46 billion for the total cost of World War I, including loans to our allies.

He said that if all the appropriations already made, and requested by the president in the new budget, were expended by July 1, 1945, after deducting revenue in that period, the net debt of the federal govrnment would be 358 billion.

"At Washington," the senator said, "we have the greatest bureaucracy of all time. x x x Not even the most expert and best informed of the government officials can name a majority of the alphabetical agencies that now govern us. This bureaucracy today has 3,063,379 paid employes (exclusive of the armed services.) x x x The annual payroll of this civilian bureaucracy is over eight billion dollars x x x Today the federal government has one civilian employe to every two and a half soldiers.

"The president of the United States has declared for four freedoms. x x x The vice president of the United States x x x has added seven more freedoms to apply to the inhabitants of all the world. Mrs. Roosevelt has added four more. It is significant to me that missing from all these freedoms x x x are the freedom from bureaucracy and the freedom of private enterprise."

"Congress is the hope of America today. x x x When this war is over, the people will thank God for the congress of the United States, as this congress, elected by the people, is the only thing that can stand between government by representative democracy on the one hand and government by bureaucracy and dictatorship on the other."

furnished to Latin America, is not only fighting side-by-side with United States and allied forces in the Western Hemisphere but began several weeks ago to send an expeditionary force abroad.

The subject of lend-lease help for Argentina was last broached in August, two months after the revolutionary regime of President General Pedro Ramirez seized power.

Secretary of State Hull hotly rejected the request at that time both because of axis activities then permitted in Argentina and because the request was based partly on the expressed desire of the Ramirez government to restore "equilibrium" in South America.

The reference to "equilibrium" was taken to mean that Argentina wanted to be as strongly armed and as well equipped with United States supplies as her neighbor Brazil despite the fact that she was making no contribution to the allied cause and in some respects was hurting it.

mans had died and 3,000 surrendered in the first 12 days of the Leningrad battle alone. Ten enemy divisions were routed. The bulk of the other casualties were on the Novgorod front where another Russian army had cleared the western shore of Lake Ilmen and badly outflanked the strong enemy base of Staraya Russa to the south.

The orphans winter" had turned the battlegrounds of the north into quagmires, seldom seen around Leningrad in January. In the lower Ukraine, repeated German counterattacks continued on the approaches to the Odessa-Warsaw railroad.

Polish underground advises said the Germans were moving factories and administration offices from Warsaw toward which Red armies of the center were aimed.

Nurses Reach Burma Area

IN THE NORTHERN BURMA JUNGLE, Jan. 20.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Something new has been added to the northern Burma jungle.

It is a bevy of army nurses—the first in Burma. Members of the "Foreign Legion" field hospital, they arrived wearing unflatteringg fatigue uniforms, but they looked mighty good to Americans, some of whom hadn't seen a white woman in six months.

tanker sunk and two cargo ships and a tanker beached

Navy Bombers Active.

Dispatches from New Georgia in the Solomons, site of the raiders' bases, said, however, that navy torpedo bombers alone had sunk or badly damaged five cargo ships at Rabaul's Simpson Harbor, including one vessel described as 8,000 to 10,000 tons. Marine pilots accounted for four ships in adjoining Kenavia Bay and set a tanker afire.

In contrast with recent statements by allied pilots that the Japanese still had their "first team" at Rabaul, Associated Press War Correspondent Wm Haugland quoted fliers returning from the attack Monday as saying "the Jap pilots today were flying like a bunch of high school kids."

On the ground, American invasion forces at Arawa on the southwest coast of New Britain, found no sign of the Japanese when patrols extended far beyond the beach perimiter.

Fighter planes kept up the strafing attacks on enemy soldiers trapped between American and Australian troops southeast of Japanese-held Madang, eventual goal of the present allied offensive in northern New Guinea.

Both bombers and fighters pounded Japanese positions in the New Guinea constal sector hinged to Madang and Wewak, farther north.

Allied troops made progress in three fronts of fighting in Burma in separate drives directed at the Japaneso port of Akyab on the Mayu Peninsula; at Chindwin River communications in the Chin hills sector and at clearing the Hukawang valley in the northern jungles.

Chinese soldiers are battling the Japanese in the Hukwang valley in the allied effort to extend the Ledo road to the old Burma roab into China. In a frontline dispatch nated Jan. 22, Associated Press War Correspondent Thotburn Wiant said the fall of enemy strongpoint of Taiphaga was imminent.

The British war office disclosed the sinking last Nov. 29 of a Japanese transport carrying British prisoners of war from Java. Circumstances of the sinking were not given by the Japanese in forwarding a list of victims.

The United States, with only 5 per cent of the world's area, has nearly one-third of the world's railroad mileage.

In weather, the like of which seldom has been seen in the Leningrad area, Russian troops strove mightily to clear the last remaining 35 miles of the Leningrad-Moscow trunk railway still in German hands and make possible the resumption of direct rail traffic between Russia's two largest cities.

The big junction towns of Tosno, Luban and Chudovo are in hourly peril from the advancing Soviet forces, dispatches said, and it was difficult to see how all of them will be able to remain in German hands for another 24 hours.

C OF C LIVESTOCK AND AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE ACTIVE

NUMBER OF PROJECTS HAVE BEEN APPROVED BY BOARD DIRECTORS

"One of the busiest committees in the Corsicana Cmamber of Commerce as the present time is the agricultural and libestock committee," according to Robert G. Dillard, manager. "After considerable deliberation, they have worked out plans for, and have in operation the following projects, which were presented to and approved by the board of directors at their monthly meeting held this week," Dillard stated:

The committee projects as listed by Dillard are as follows:

"1. The pig program which was sponsored by the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, has been an outstanding success and it has exceeded anything that we even anticipated for the splendid success of this program. We want to take this opportunity to express our appreciation to L. L. Bennett, assistant county agent of Navarro county for the splendid program of hog management which he conducted. Since the situation of breeding stock of Navarro county is in excellent shape, the scarcity of feed, and hog prices being what they are at the present time, we recommend that the pig program be held stationary for the time being.

"2. For a boy's project this coming year, we recommend that the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce buy and furnish free of charge to some 30 or 40 boys to be picked throughout the county by H. C. Robinson and Mr. Bennett, some six bushels of hybrid corn, to cost approximately $6.90 a bushel f. o. b. Corsicana, to construct 20 or 30 well controlled mybrid corn projects in Navarro county for the coming year. This project to head up the prizes in this year's 1944 Food for Freedom Exposition.

"3. Since one of the mig projects of this year will have to be Victory gardens, and since the Corsicana Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored this program in 1943, we urge that the Jaycees again sponsor this program and that we give them our utmost support.

"4. We recommend that the allotment of farm machinery for 1944 be scrutinized from the standpoint of Navarro county and appropriate action be taken on the same.

"5. We are, at the present time as a committee, through our manager, laying plans for the recruiting of farm labor and the use of prison labor. Other reports will be made as this work progresses.

"6. We recommend that the board of directors disapatch to the Borden Company, E. E. Waters and John Hutto, sincere appreciation for the splendid job they did last year in saving our hay crop and urge that the same program be continued again, and if possible, and conditions warrant, that the program be extended, assuring them of the entire co-operation of this office.

"7. After due deliberation and having seen the program in operation in adjoining counties, we are of the opinion that one of the finest programs which we can undertake this year will be that of encouraging the terracing programs as proposed by the Soil Conservation Service."

Miss Mary Jane Etter, secretary in teh office of County Judge E. D. McCormick, spent the week end with her mother at Dawson.

"AMERICANISM" WAS THEME OF AMERICAN LEGION OFFICIAL

JAMES R. WILSON REMINDS HOME FRONT OF DUTY TO BACK SOLDIERS

Jmes R. Wilson, Jr., Wilkinsburg, Pa., assistant national Americanism director of the American Legion, spoke at the American Legion hall here Tuesday night and used as his theme "Americanism."

"After the war we will all share what the American soldiers in all sections of the world are now going through hell and high water to preserve," he said. He reminded those present that it was their duty to back those soldiers to the limit now in buying war bonds, contributing to the blood plasma bank and numerous other things that will help win the war. "If you do those things," he said, "you will not have to hide your head, but will know that you have contributed your part toward victory." The speaker, who finished his flying training at Sheppard Field, said that he was confident that Texas would do her share not only in the bond drives but in all other things.

Wilson was a private in the U. S. Air Forces and was a tail gunner on a Flying Fortress. He was wounded three times on a bombing mission over Rabaul. He participated in 21 missions over enemy territory and was a member of the famous 19th Bombardment Squadron, later being transferred to the 43rd Bombardment Squadron.

All Young Men.

He told of a number of missions in which he participated and on most of those missions, he said, no member of the crew was over 24 years of age. "They left home as boys, but believe me they will not return as boys," he said. "The experiences they have gone through have made mature men of them," he added. He said the same thing was applicable to the other young men who were fighting in all war zones.

In describing the action in which he was wounded, Wilson said that the target was some Japanese destroyers and transport vessels. "We came in at about 8,000 feet and I saw 20 Zeros in the air and believe, me that is enough to make you shudder. The Zero which attacked us made a frontal attack. It came in in a slow roll, firing as it passed over. It came back up under us and I got three bullets through me. One tore through my lung, smashed three ribs and paralyzed my right side. But before the attack was over two destroyers were sunk and ten Zeros knocked down," he said.

Continuing, he said, "when I reported my injuries they gave me a dose of a sulpha drug, a shot of morphine, patched me up the best they could, wrapped me in a sheepskin to keep me warm and then I prayed."

He was taken to Port Moresby and given three pints of blood plasma and operated on. While in the hospital there the Japanese bombed the town, shaking up the hospital quite a bit, he said. From Port Moresby he was carried to Brisbane and finally to the United States for further treatment. It was at this point that he made a special plea for blood plasma, saying that very few realized how badly it was needed.

War Not Nearly Over.

His concluding statement was "the war is not nearly over, if you believe it is, just look at your map and ese how little of the territory won by the Japs in six months that we have retaken in two years, and also see just how much farther we have to go."

The speaker was introduced by G. Ward Moody, Austin, rehabilitation and field secretary for the American Legion of Texas, and former resident of Corsicana, who is making a tour of the state with Wilson.

George E. DeVogelaere, Rochester, N. Y., aviation cadet at Corsicana Field, played several selections on an accordion. DeVogelaere studied and later taught in the Boston School of Music and is rated as one of the leading accordionists in the country. He was presented by Harold Phillips.

Joe Daniel presided at the meeting.

AWARDED PURPLE HEART—While in a New Hebrides hospital recovering from wounds received when his ship, the U. S. S. Navajo, was sunk, Vernon Webb Turner, Streetman, Radioman First Class, was personally awarded the Purple Heart by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, with the following citation: "In the name of the President of the United States, and by direction of the Secretary of the Navy, the Commander of South Pacific area and South Pacific Force takes pleasure in awarding the Purple Heart medal to Vernon Webb Turner, Radioman First Class USN for injury received as a result of enemy action in the South Pacific area on September 12, 1943." When the torpedo struck the Navajo, there was no time to put on life jackets so Turner abandoned ship with his jacket in his hand. Most of the men were wounded as a result of depth charges from their own vessel. He was picked up by a mine sweeper that had no radio operator. When asked if there was a radio operator in the group, Turner, in spite of his injuries, volunteered. He radioed for doctors and also the position of the ship, which resulted in the sinking of a Jap submarine the following morning. Too modest to tell of his decoration, and saying to his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Turner, that he only did what any one else would have done in line of duty. He spent his leave with his family and has been assigned to active duty again on a newly commissioned ship, with only a small group aware that he is Streetman's first hero.

YUGOSLAVS HAVE LIBERATED MUCH OF CENTRAL BOSNIA

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Yugoslav Partisans, skilled in the art of mountain warfare, have liberated 70 per cent of Central Bosnia from the German invaders, headquarters of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) announced today.

Reporting one of the major Yugoslav successes of the winter campaign, the Yugoslav war bulletin, broadcast by the Free Yugoslav radio, said that the last remnants of German forces have been cleared from the Central Bosnian area with occupation of the town of Prnjvor, 25 airline miles northeach of Banja Luka.

Southwest of Mrkinjsgrad, Vrbas river stronghold recaptured from thet nazis yesterday, the Partisans have advanced about 30 miles to the southwest.

The Berlin radio claimed the capture of the island of Hvar off the northern Dalmatian coast and said that 19 days of recent fighting had cost the Partisans more than 21,000 casualties against undisclosed nazi losses.

Mrs. Linnie Lee Powell returned recently from New York, where she visited her husband, Earl C. Powell, gunner's mate, third class, U. S. navy. New-York is Powell's home port.

ADVANCE IN POINT VALUES ON CERTAIN MEATS ANNOUNCED

MORE STAMPS WILL ALSO BE REQUIRED FOR CHEESE IN FEBRUARY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—One to two point hikes in the February ration point values on most cuts of beef, lamb and veal were announced by the Office of Price Administration today.

More brown stamps will be required also for all types of cheese and the values on pork loin cuts will be one point higher next month. The ration cost of all other pork cuts will remain unchanged.

Butter continues at 16 points a pound but there will be slightly more available, OPA said. Lard values are advanced one point to three points a pound.

The new schedule, effective Sunday, Jan. 30, calls for two-point increases on beef steak cuts, with revised values ranging from eight to 12 points a pound. Most other beef cuts including roasts and stews, get a one-point boost.

For veal, lamb and mutton cuts one or two point increases are fairly general.

Cheddar cheese goes from 10 to 12 points a pound in the new table and cream cheese is arised from 8 to 10 points. Swiss, Munster, Bleu and other similar cheeses are up four points to a total of 12.

With the exception of oysters, which continue at present levels, all canned fish is given a four-point reduction, being listed at 12 points a pound as compared with the previous 16.

Among canned meats, dried beef is raised two points to 16 a pound, while two point cuts are ordered for canned pork sausage, beef tongue and Vienna sausage.

Sliced dried beef in bulk gets a 14 point value, up 2 points a pound.

Retail Supply Shorter.

Explaining the boosts in meat point values, OPA said the total retail supply for February is estimated at 1,400,000,000 pounds, while the January total was approximately 1,600,000,000 pounds.

Of the amount available for next month, pork constitutes about half the total, at around 750,000,000 pounds, the agency said.

"I want to stress the point," said Price Administrator Chester Bowles, "that we are making sure that there are enough ration points to buy up all the meat available to civilians in February.

"We would rather take the chance of having too many ration points in the hands of housewives, which may cause possible local shortages of some kinds of meat, than to have any waste because of insufficient points."

Pork loin cuts—such as roasts, center end chops and tenderloin—were raised a point, OPA explained, because these choice items are becoming relatively scarce in some parts of the country.

Excessive consumer demand caused the hike of cheese values, OPA said.

Tip Dunagan, Charlie Green, Sam Green and Ben Green, all of Emmett were Corsicana visitors Monday morning.
